She is just so well balanced throughout with typical outline; say she could be no other breed. Even at this tender age, she has a dignity and confidence and works with her unobtrusive sympathetic handler, in perfect harmony. Her footfall is true, she has long easy stride, which can only be achieved by correct angulation. Has the length of head with brain room, and strong clean foreface. Flows through neck and back to prominent pin bones and sloping croup to well set tail, which she carries with style at just the right level. Tempted to put her higher, but just felt she tired a touch at the end, it was a long day.
